

What if you could outsource

your petroleum
fleet tomorrow
and...

- Keep the same experienced drivers serving your customers?
- Eliminate the constant headache and challenge of regulatory compliance?
- Improve your operational execution through the industry's most sophisticated inventory management and transportation management systems?
- Have access to an array of other value-delivering supply chain management services?
- Expand access to capacity during peak demand times?
- Significantly reduce your liability and risk?
- Free up capital for better use in your core business activities?
- Receive an additional payout for your fleet's enterprise value?

You can with The Kenan Advantage Group! We're the nation's largest provider of bulk transportation and logistics services to the petroleum industry with a solid track record of highly successful private fleet conversions. Let us help you make the right strategic move for your organization.
